SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY

Reported weekly for the Ledger.

Evaporation of Cold Metals.—A Mail Subway.—Tides of the Earth's Crust.—Lungs for Airless Places.—Electrified Gas-Flames.—Schools of Air Navigation.—Proof That Elements Change.—Chairs for Panics.—Goggles of Sheet Steel.

The long suspected evaporation of metals and their solid compounds has been recently shown by several methods, that of Zengelis being to enclose the substance in an air-tight glass vessel with a piece of chemically pure silver foil suspended horizontally a third of an inch or less above it. Experiments have been made with copper, lead, iron, zinc, non-metals (sulphur, tellurium, phosphorus), metalloids (arsenic and antimony), and various oxides, hydrides, sulphides and haloid and oxygen salts. The silver foil was more or less affected in nearly every case, usually taking on a golden tint. To produce a distinct effect required weeks or months in most cases, but a few days or even hours were sufficient with some substances, metalloids and non-metals acting more energetically than metals. The results seem to indicate some connection between evaporation and the action of solid bodies on photographic plates, as well as with radioactivity.

The familiar mail-van is to disappear from Berlin streets if a new plan of connecting the central post office with the various stations in the city is carried out. A tube of sufficient size to permit a stooping man to enter is to be constructed, and this will have two railway tracks, one above the other. Small two-wheeled carts will be run by electricity. No locomotive or attendant on board will be required, and trains containing up to six cars will carry the mails to any part of the city in a fourth of the present time.

The theory that the earth's crust is subject to diurnal movements analogous to tides has been confirmed by the seismograph at Mauritius. The movements seem to depend upon the sun. A wave of low barometric pressure travels around the earth after the sun, and this wave causes a bulge in the crust beneath it.

Fused sodium peroxide, electrically prepared, is the chemical agent in a process of air regeneration that has been recommended for such purpose as submarine boats, etc. In contact with water, pure oxygen is given off, caustic soda being formed. The soda absorbs the carbonic acid, coating the peroxide with a crust of carbonate, which is removed by shaking the chemical in a wire net or gauze cylinder. It is found that 3/4 ounces of the peroxide give the seven gallons of oxygen required by one man per hour, and that 20 pounds should sustain nine men in submarine of 2700 cubic feet capacity for nine hours, before the carbonic acid in the air breathed would increase to a troublesome quantity.

Experimenting on the influence of small currents of electricity upon flames—especially those of acetylene—C. F. Lorenz has found that an alternating current of a few hundredths of an ampere increases the light about five times, at the same time shortening the flame. Before a mirror the periodic changes are easily seen. The flame, which gives out a humming sound, can be used where a specially white, short-wave light is required, and it is also applicable as a telephone receiver, especially if it is supplied through a manometer mouth-piece into which the voice is directed. The electric current was passed between the burner and a wire projecting into the dark cone of the flame.

A Premier in Logic.

In the first place let it be understood that a "notice to taxpayers" is not a legal notice in the sense that a sheriff's sale, summons, notice to creditors, etc., are. Its legal status is derived after two publications. With the other notices mentioned to it is different.

The Ledger's excuse for continuing publication after U. S. Gregory took office is a lame one, and we offer this conclusive comparison: Ginochio Bros. and L. Glavinovich are running advertisements in the Ledger. If either of them should change proprietorships, would the Ledger continue the advertisements without first consulting the new proprietors? Not by a long shot. If the Ledger did continue the advertisements what chance would it have before the law of collecting from new proprietors an advertising bill for which no contract or agreement had been entered into? None whatever, and the Ledger knows it.—Record.

What an apology for logic. Our contemporary has become hopelessly stranded on a mental fog-bank; and the more he flounders, whether from malice or ignorance, it matters not, the more pitiable becomes his self-abasement. The above is not worthy to be dignified by the name of argument. It is nothing more than the ravings of a disordered intellect, prompted by ulterior motives to attempt to beguile and deceive an intelligent public. The writer of the above stuff is not entitled to serious consideration, but the public whom he thus endeavors to lead astray is entitled to protection against such methods.

The effort to draw the line of demarcation between the "notice to taxpayers" and other legal notices, borders on imbecility. The only definition of a legal notice is, —a notice the publication of which is demanded by the statutes. Furthermore all legal notices stand upon exactly the same footing as to their legal status so far as their publication is concerned. In the technical language of printers—they are "live"—until the time limited mentioned in the notice has expired, if any date is mentioned therein. A sheriff's sale is set for a day certain, mentioned in the notice. The advertisement is a "living" thing until the particular date has been reached. In like manner, the "notice to taxpayers" required to be published by the tax collector, mentions the last Monday in April as the day of final delinquency; it is a "live" ad until that time limit has been reached, and its publication by the printer, on the order of the officer having authority over the same is a legal charge against the county up to that date, and no longer.

The comparison between a business advertisement inserted by a private firm and the "taxpayers'" notice is odious. It is as foreign to the point as a Greenland lobster in the Sahara desert. When a private person orders an advertisement, he does so on his own responsibility solely. His act binds no one but himself, and the printer must look to him alone for his recompense. He cannot hold his successor to account, because his position gave him no such authority. With the tax collector it is otherwise. He represents not himself, but the people for whom he does business, and while he may retire, resign or die, the office never dies, and his employer—the people collectively—never dies—never goes out of business. When one official drops out by reason of expiration of term, his successor takes up his work where he left off. If he wishes to make changes, he can do so by express command; in the absence of such command, the work started by his predecessor goes right along as if no change had taken place in the individuality of the official.

If the reasoning of our contemporary were sound, what a direful state of affairs it would lead to. It would follow as an inevitable result that when a change occurred in the personality of the president of the United States, or of the governor of the state, every appointee of the ex-official would have to quit his duties, until he had received orders from the new administration to continue his functions. He would be barred from assuming that the appointment or instructions under the former executive were binding upon him until abrogated by the new executive. The wheels of government would come to an abrupt standstill. Of course, such a position is absurd, but it is exactly on all fours with the contention that the notice to taxpayers should have been dropped from the columns of the Ledger without any express orders to that effect, and for no other reason than another servant of the people had stepped into the position of the tax collector who ordered the notice inserted. Enough said.

Male Clerks Wanted for Alameda, Oakland and San Francisco Post Offices.

The U. S. civil service commission announces that it is experiencing considerable difficulty in securing male clerks in the Alameda, Berkeley, Oakland and San Francisco post offices. Special examinations will be held at San Francisco for this position and also for the position of carrier for the above mentioned offices on April 23, 1907 and May 22, 1907. Age limits—18 to 45 years. Over one hundred vacancies exist in the offices mentioned and the commission desires to secure sufficient eligibles to fill these vacancies. The entrance salary for all offices is $500 per annum, and after one year's satisfactory service, promotion is made to $600; at the end of the second year to $600; at the end of the third year to $1000, and at San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley, at the end of the fourth year, to $1100 per annum. Promotions above $1100 are made on the recommendation of the post master.

These examinations afford bright young men an opportunity to enter the government service where there is a chance of promotion to positions paying $1000 and $1100 per annum after four years service.

Persons who desire to compete should at once apply to the secretary of the Twelfth Civil Service District, Room 211 Post Office Building, San Francisco, California, for application forms.

DOUX Transcripts.

Transcripts on appeal in the case of the people against Mrs Emma Le Doux were filed with the supreme court yesterday. Deputy county clerk Walter N. Parrish was sworn to make copies of the transcripts and serve them upon the different parties to the action, as required by law.

Twenty transcripts were sent to the supreme court. Each transcript was composed of four separate volumes. Eighty volumes, in other words, were expressed to the clerk of the supreme court in San Francisco. They were packed in a box and weighed 242 pounds. Copies were served on Judge Nutter, the district attorney, Charles H. Fairall, Charles Crocker and each of the judges of the supreme court.—Independent

We were shown by attorney Chas H. Crocker the copy of the transcript in this case. It embraces four volumes, and contains in all over 3000 folios. In size we believe this transcript has been exceeded by only one criminal case on appeal in California, and that was the Durant case, which embraced over 4000 folios of 10 lines each. Briefs have to be filed by each side, and these will also be bulky. A decision will probably be reached in about six months.

Drs. Barkar & Sewall—Specialists,

Senator Perkins was about right when he said the main trouble with Roosevelt is that he talks over much. The same is also true of some members of the cabinet. The speech of secretary Taft recently, in attempting to bolster up the Japanese side of the school question, is a case in point. That issue is settled, only temporarily it may be, and the position taken by Taft was not only uncalled for, but is full of sophistry and dissemblance. From a political standpoint, coming from one prominently mentioned as a probable candidate for president, it was a blunder. The main point contended for by Taft is that the action of the school authorities of San Francisco in refusing Japanese admission to the common schools with American and other children, was a violation of the provisions of the treaty, which concedes to the Japanese all the rights accorded to the most favored nations. No one that we are aware of has seriously disputed this position. It does not follow, however, that school authorities were wrong in segregating the Japanese into separate schools. The real issue is whether the federal treaty or the state law is supreme in this matter. Must the school board be governed by the treaty or by the laws of their own state or municipality. The whole question of state sovereignty is revived in a new form. There is no question that in case of a conflict between a federal and a state statute, the national law would prevail. But has a mere treaty the same force and effect as a congressional statute.

SPRING.

I wonder why things are so bright, And the mountain echoes ring; The dark gray clouds have taken flight, Can it be that it is spring?

Have you noticed the bounding rivers That flow from the rivertiers clear? They flow on and on forever, Headless that spring is here.

The linnets from their southern clime Sing sweetly around our door; They make us think—ah! many a time—

That joyous spring is here. The flowers blooming 'neath the trees Gladly catch the sun's bright rays; Soft breezes that float o'er grassy leas, Are murmuring springtime praise.

Then hasten to our daily toils, And let our glad voices ring Through the soft and balmy air— For we know that it is spring.

AUKUM.

April 21.—James McNaughton paid our part a visit today.

Wm. Darling of Ojeda, visited Mrs Chan Bell on Friday last.

Mr and Mrs Fred Schroeder has moved up to the Greenslate saw mill to stay for a few months.

Louie Seeley came down from Grizzly Flat yesterday, sick with grippe.

The engine is now hoisting water from the shaft at the new mine on the Nichley homestead, from appearances the operators mean business. J. Wrigglesworth Jr., has a force of men cutting wood for the mine.

I learned today that Mr Lions, who was reported missing last week at Oakland, who was a former resident of this place was exhausted from his burial in the potters field, and was buried elsewhere. I failed to learn the cause of his death, whether it was by foul or natural causes. As he was a heavy drinker, it is probable he met death at the hand of thugs. He leaves a wife and ten children to support him.

Kaph Dilton and Ray Bell are going to the Greenslate saw mill tomorrow to work for a while.

April 19.—After being idle for a couple of months, the smelter at the copper mine started up on Tuesday last. The sound of the several whistles in the morning was very welcome to the residents of the surrounding country. A number of families at Camanche, Camp Seo and Lancha Plana depend upon this great industry for a living.

The strike at the copper mine by the underground miners has been settled, and nearly all the men are back in their old places. Most of the employees' wages were increased substantially and the hours shortened on certain jobs.

The ranch and town property where Mrs Phoebe Williams, who was murdered nearly two years ago, lived, has been sold to a H. Brady, who will shortly erect a new house.

Since the drowning of the unfortunate Albert Holquist at the copper mine on March the 29th, the search for his body has been carried on. The Penn Mining Company having kept ten men patrolling the river for nearly three weeks. It is thought that his remains have been carried far down the river.

We were shown by attorney Chas H. Crocker the copy of the transcript in this case. It embraces four volumes, and contains in all over 3000 folios. ## An Open Letter.

To my friends and patrons in Jackson and Sutter Creek.

As much as I regret it, I find it absolutely necessary to discontinue traveling, as my chicken business demands my whole attention.

For this reason, I send you Mr J.
R. Jenkins to take my place, if it so pleases you.

I am sure, you will like his work as well as you did mine, as I have found him to be a conscientious A, No. 1 piano tuner, and furthermore a gentleman which I consider essential. Let these lines be my goodbye to you, and permmit me to say, you have my deepest gratitude for the many kind acts received at your hands. Hoping to meet you again, I remain

Very truly yours,
LOUIS SCHIEMANN,
Sunnyvale, Cal.

KILLED IN THE ARGONAUT.

Martin Segota fell to His Death.

A fatal accident occurred at the Argonaut mine on Saturday afternoon.
The victim was a young Austrian miner, named Martin Segota, aged 28 years. He had been working at the Argonaut for about three years, and had proved himself a steady and reliable worker. The precise manner in which the fatality occurred is merely a matter of conjecture. No one witness the mishap, nor knew of its occurrence until his body was found on the timbers of the bulkhead near the bottom of the shaft.

John Rodonovich and the victim were working a machine drill at the 2520 foot level on the afternoon mentioned. About 4 o'clock Rodonovich who had charge of the drilling operations, sent Segota for more drills saying that he would go on drilling while he was away. The drills are left at each station, and placed some eight feet from the shaft. They are always left in the same spot, so that the workers knew exactly where to look for them. Ordinarily it would take but a few minutes to go to the usual place and return. Rodonovich kept at work, and drilled a hole, and still his partner failed to return. He thought perhaps he had gone to another station for them. Quitting the following committee was appointed to make all necessary arrangements for this event:
C. B. Ardito, Wm. Hess, T. K. Norman, H. E. Kay and H. Leaman. It is intended to have a new committee to arrange for the successive weekly shots.

The club has already secured a strong membership roll, sufficient to ensure the success of the movement. The weekly meetings promise to be exceedingly popular, and attract a large number to the place of meeting.

The next club meeting will be held in the Weil building April 28. A permanent meeting place will probably be selected at that time, preferably the rooms of the social and athletic club.

The Red Flag.

"May day and the red flag peril, or Christianity vs. anarchy," will be the timely theme upon which Rev. C.

E. Wicnig will discourse at the Methodist church next Sunday evening. All patriotic citizen should try to be present, as the presence of a red flag contingent in Jackson makes the subject of local as well as world wide importance. All seats are free and all are welcome.

Early Morning Wedding.

John Chin, the well-known business man of Jackson and Mrs Blanche R. Trewella also of Jackson, were married at an early hour Saturday morning. The ceremony of tying the nuptial knot was performed by A.
Goldner, Justice of the Peace. The affair was conducted in the quietest manner possible, only the contracting parties and the official being present.
Shortly after the ceremony the newly wedded couple were driven to Martell station, where they boarded the train for a wedding tour to various parts of the state. They will visit Stockton and other points further south before returning. It is uncertain when they will return, but they are not looked for until the lapse of a week or ten days at least.

Baseball Notes.

The Jackson baseball players were worsted in several contests the past week. On Saturday the Jackson team went up against the high school boys of Lone on the grounds of the latter, and were defeated with a score of 13
to 9.

At Mokelumne Hill a team from South Jackson played a game with the hill boys, and came out second best, with a score of 21 to 18. The game was played on Sunday.

On the same day the juveniles representing the rival teams of Jackson and South Jackson engaged in a practice contest on the local diamond, the Southrons winning with a score of 11 to 6.

Last Saturday the young baseball enthusiasts of the county seat met with a bitter disappointment. A team, togged out in new uniforms repaired to a stinging loss.

It is said that he was subject to dizzy spells. He had been under treatment of a physician several times.

It is supposed that after placing the seven drills across his shoulder, while in a stooping posture—the usual mode in such cases—on attempting to rise, the weight of the drills overbalanced him and he fell backward into the shaft.

Or it may be that he was attacked by a spell of dizziness at that critical moment, and tottering forward toward the shaft in a dazed condition fell therein.

Coroner Potter held an inquest over the body Sunday afternoon. A verdict of accidental death was returned in accordance with the meager light that could be thrown upon the case.

Segota was a single man. His only relative in this state is a sister living at Angels Camp, who came over Monday to attend the funeral, which was held Tuesday. He has relatives in his native land, Austria, toward whose support it is said he regularly contributed out of his wages. It is said he was insured in the Austrian Benevolent Society, of which he was a member, for the sum of $300.

J. W. Violett, an old and highly esteemed resident of Lone, died in that town this morning. He was 79 years of age.

Carl C. Jensen, optician, has visited Amador county for the past ten years.

He comes well recommended. Reserve your orders for him. He can suit you. Will be here early in May.

Another Livery Stable.

In spite of the cry of dull times, a new livery stable business is being started in the frame building belonging to Geo. W. Brown, at the north end of Main street. The new firm is Stevens & Hutchinson. A car load of new vehicles was received in the early part of the week from the well-known factory at Racine, Wis.

The vehicles are of all descriptions including stylish rubber-tire buggies, surfries, drammers' wagons, etc.

The stable will also be a depot for the sale of new buggies and other vehicles. A livery business has been carried on in a small way for some months, but now they propose to branch out in a more extensive and stylish way.

DO YOU KNOW

That Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only one in existence which suggests for women's weaknesses and peculiar ailments that does not contain large quantities of alcohol? It is also the only medicine, especially prepared for the cure of the delicate diseases peculiar to women, the makers of which are bound to take his patients into his full confidence before putting upon each bottle wrapper all the ingredients entering into the medicine. Ask your druggist if this is not true.

"Favorite Prescription," too, is the only medicine for women, all the ingredients of which have the unqualified endorsement of the leading medical writers of the several schools of practice, recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which they are prescribed. Address, Write to Dr. E. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free booklet, and read the numerous extracts from standard medical authorities praising the several ingredients of which. "Pleasant" medicines are good, and don't forget that no other medicine put up for sale through druggists for domestic use can show any such professional endorsement. This, of itself, is of far more weight and importance than any amount of so-called "restorative" so conspicuously flaunted before the public, in favor of the alcoholic compounds.

The "Favorite Prescription" cures all women's physical weakness and disengagements thus banishing the painful headaches, backaches, bearing-down distress, tenderness and dragging-down sensations in lower abdomen, accompanied by weakening and disagreeable catarrhal, polypous and rheumatic complaints.

Dr. Pierce and his staff of skilled specialists may be consulted freely by addressing as above. All correspondence is treated as sacredly confidential. By consulting in this way the disagreeable questions of medical and personal examinations are avoided.

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser contains some very interesting and valuable chapters on the diseases peculiar to women. It contains over three thousand pages. It is sent post paid, on receipt of sufficient in one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only, or 21 cents for a copy in flexible paper covers, or 31 cents for cloth bound copy. Address Dr. E. V. Pierce, as above.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One laxative, two or three cathartics.

LAWYERS AND OUR PUBLIC LIFE. Without stopping for statistics, which have been so often collated, it is enough to say that in the public life of this country the lawyer has been the conspicuous factor. The Judiciary, of course, is altogether composed of members of the profession. In executive offices and legislative halls the law has predominated and still predominates over every business and all other professions. Yet the public life of this country has been of the highest character. Acting for the public as the lawyers have done in these various fields of official labor, they have proved true to their employment and it may safely be said that the scandals which have sometimes been found in official life have seldom attached to them. How can this be accounted for except upon the theory of a general personal integrity? It is no sufficient explanation to say that, although the great mass of the profession is corrupt, there are a few who are reliable, and they are the ones whom the public select for official life. The truth is their very prominence in public life, their fidelity to the trusts therein imposed, is evidence which cannot be ignored that the profession has and maintains a character for honesty and uprightness which attracts general confidence.—D. J. Brewer in Atlantic.

The "Danger" of Home. "Home is the most dangerous place I ever go to," remarked John Muir, the famous geologist and naturalist. He was on the train returning from Arizona to his home in Martinez, Cal., after the earthquake. "As long as I camp out in the mountains, without tent or blankets, I get along very well, but the minute I get into a house and have a warm bed and begin to live on fine food I get into a draft, and the first thing I know I am coughing and sneezing and threatened with pneumonia and altogether miserable. Outdoors is the natural place for a man. Walk where you please, when you like, and take your time. The mountains won't hurt you, nor the exposure. Why, I can live out for $50 a year for bread and tea and occasionally a little tobacco. All I need is a sack for the bread and a pot to boil water in and an ax. The rest is easy."—World's Work.

Hopless. "Do you expect to make a business man out of your son?" asked an old friend.

"No, he's hopeless!" exclaimed the father. "I gave him a $1,000 bill the other day, and the first thing he did was to put it under a microscope to see what kind of germs it had on it."

Like the Mythical Dragon. In the Malay archipelago is a reptile much like the mythical dragon. It has false ribs that extend the loose skin and form its wings. There is also a frog with spreading feet that makes a parachute which enables it to fly from tree to tree, and a flying lemur that can spread out its whole body like an umbrella and leap and fly a hundred feet at a time, from the top of one tree to another.

Gold and Silver Gospels. "The Gold and Silver Gospels" is the name of a very peculiar book now preserved in the Upsala Library in Sweden. It is printed with metal type on violet colored vellum, the letters being silver and the initials gold. When it was printed, by whom or what were the methods employed are questions which have great interest for the curious, but have never been answered.

Saving Time. "You shouldn't treat your boy so harshly. You'll break his spirit."

"Well, he'll probably get married some time, and he might as well have it broken now."

"I get 110 marks salary; then I don't pay my rent, 40 marks; that's 150 marks; I owe the milkman 30 marks, that's 180 marks; my butcher 40 marks, 220 marks, and every month I raise 30 marks out of my friends, making an income of 250 marks a month!"—Flegende Blatter.

Drawing a Tooth. An elephant had a raging toothache, the agony of which caused her to nearly destroy her caravan. She was thrown on her side and roped to stakes. Two men held a pair of iron tongs fast round the aching tooth, and a couple of dry horses attached to the tongs by a rope did the rest. The tooth was sixteen inches long by three inches across.

His Complaint. Inkwirer—What became of that queer patient you were telling me about last spring? Dr. Price—Oh, he's got a complaint now that's giving me a great deal of trouble! Inkwirer—Indeed! What is it? Dr. Price—Why, a complaint about the amount of my bill.
